FINDING JESUS ALIVE

BY: Fr. Stephen Verbest 05/12/2002
New Melleray Abbey, Peosta, Iowa 52068

A Mother's Love

During World War II, Hannah, a young Jewish mother, and her husband, Solomon, together with their sons, Jacob and David, were taken to a Nazi concentration camp. Anyone who could not work was gassed and burnt in the ovens. Their youngest son, David, wore a brace to support a deformed leg. When they arrived at the camp Solomon was immediately sent to hard labor. That evening he searched for his family. Finding his oldest son, Jacob, Solomon asked him where little David and the boys' mother had gone. Jacob, in tears, replied, "The soldiers came and took him to the ovens and Mother went with him so that he would not be alone."

At the Last Supper, Jesus, knowing his hour had come, told his disciples, "I am not alone, for the Father is with me" (Jn 16:32). When soldiers came to take him to Golgotha and when Jesus died on the cross he was not alone, the Father was with him. The last words of Jesus were a cry of love, "Father, into your hands I commend my spirit." His Father was with him, already holding Jesus in his arms.

The Ascension

At his ascension Jesus promised that we also would never be left alone, "I am with you always, to the end of the age." The silent, invisible God whom holy Job wanted to see with his own eyes, and hear with his own ears, answered Job's prayer. He took on our flesh in Mary's womb and became Emmanuel, which means "God is with us." The blind saw him, the deaf heard him. The distant landlord who seemed to have abandoned his vineyard, Israel, sent his Son to be with us saying, "They will respect my Son." The missing God who was ridiculed by taunters in the psalms asking, "Where is your God," was lifted up on a cross for all to see. Jesus went with us through the gates of death so that we would not have to go there alone.

The ascension of Jesus was not the end of his presence with us, but a new way of being intimately present. St. Augustine writes, "You ascended before our eyes, and we turned back grieving, only to find you in our hearts."

In our Hearts

Once a young boy was about to have open-heart surgery. To prepare him the surgeon said, "Tomorrow I will look at your heart." Smiling, the boy interrupted, "You'll find Jesus there." Ignoring his remark, the surgeon continued, "After I have seen your heart I will try to repair the damage." Again, the lad insisted, "You are going to find Jesus in my heart." The surgeon who had suffered losses in his own family, and was still in pain from a broken marriage, felt very distant from God. He replied in a chilling tone, "No, what I'll find is damaged tissue, constricted arteries, and weakened muscle."

The next day he cut open the boy's chest and exposed his heart. It was worse than he expected: a ravaged aorta, torn tissue, swollen muscles and arteries. There was no hope of a cure, not even the possibility of a transplant. His icy anger at God began to surface as he thought, "Where is God? Why did he do this? Why is he letting this boy suffer, and cursing him to an early death?"

Redeeming Love

As he gazed on the boy's heart he suddenly thought of the pierced, torn, bleeding heart of Jesus, and it seemed to him that the boy and Jesus shared one heart, a heart that was suffering from a fallen world, a heart that was redeeming the world by love. Struck with awe at such goodness, such redemptive suffering, tears began rolling down the surgeon's cheeks, hot tears of compassion for the boy and for Jesus. Later, when the child awoke, he whispered, "Did you see my heart?" "Yes," said the surgeon. "What did you find?" the boy asked. The surgeon replied, "I found Jesus there."

The four gospels do not end with Jesus' absence, but with his continuing presence. Matthew does not mention the ascension. His gospel ends with Jesus saying, "I am with you always, to the end of the age." Mark writes that Jesus was taken up into heaven, and then he adds, "the disciples went forth and preached everywhere, while the Lord worked with them and confirmed the word with signs." Luke ends with Jesus ascending into heaven in order to send the promise of the Father upon us, his own Spirit. The last scene in the John's gospel is of Jesus saying to Peter and to us, "Follow me." Christ became more present in the world after his ascension than after his birth in Bethlehem. He continued his presence with us in the Eucharist, in the Scriptures and in our hearts.

Fr. Stephen

As Gerard Manley Hopkins expresses it, "...Christ plays in ten thousand places, Lovely in eyes, and lovely in limbs ..., [Loving] the Father through the features of [our] faces." Like Hannah, the wonderful Jewish mother who chose to die with her son, David, so he would not be alone, Jesus lives and dies with us so that we will never be alone. "I am with you always," he said, to the end of the age, to the day and hour of a new beginning when we will ascend to the Father and be intimately present with Jesus, with his Spirit and with each other forever.

As Kingfishers Catch Fire

BY GERARD MANLEY HOPKINS

As kingfishers catch fire, dragonflies draw flame;
As tumbled over rim in roundy wells
Stones ring; like each tucked string tells, each hung bell's
Bow swung finds tongue to fling out broad its name;
Each mortal thing does one thing and the same:
Deals out that being indoors each one dwells;
Selves — goes itself; myself it speaks and spells,
Crying Whát I dó is me: for that I came.

I say móre: the just man justices;
Keeps grace: thát keeps all his goings graces;
Acts in God's eye what in God's eye he is —
Christ — for Christ plays in ten thousand places,
Lovely in limbs, and lovely in eyes not his
To the Father through the features of men's faces.

GOD OF LOVE AND LIFE FATHER, SON and HOLY SPIRIT

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY

A Mother is Love. Motherhood begins with love; a woman's selfless love of God and of her husband. She touches eternity and intimately participates in the act of creation when God infuses, deep within her womb, His newly created soul into her child's very first cell at the moment of conception.

A Mother will then lovingly endure the pains of child birth. She will selflessly place her child above all other priorities. She will shower her love, and reflects God's love, on her child.

A Mother will teach her child to seek God, to do His will and to love Him above all else. She will protect her child from all harm as she raises the child in a hostile world. She will willingly give up her own life to save the life of her child.

A Mother is Love. A Mother is Life.

Prayer Anthology

Focus Point: As we enter the month of May and excitedly await Spring, First Holy Communion, and the May Crowning of our Blessed Mother, it's a great time to reflect on the questions: how often do we say the Rosary, how often should we say the Rosary? In 1917, the Blessed Mother gave these words to the Children of Fatima: "Say the Rosary every day to bring peace to the world and an end to the war."

During today's tumultuous times those words carry the same meaning. So, can we offer up some time each month, week or even each day to pray to the Blessed Mother through the Rosary? Praying to Mary to intercede for us and bring our intentions to her Son brings our focus to also be on Jesus. In this busy world maybe rather than "say" the whole Rosary quickly simply to "get it done" can we instead "Pray" as much of the Rosary as we have time for that day? Father Joe maintains that "praying the Rosary can answer our prayers in ways we never imagined". It will bring us closer to God and bring about change that we didn't even know we needed!

Prayer: Dear Lord, Please bless me with the eyes to see the importance of including the Blessed Mother in my Daily Prayer. Help me to gain her understanding of the glory and joy of the Resurrection despite the crucifixion of her Son. Let me thank her each day for my many blessings. Please let her guide me to pray each day for all souls in purgatory and the conversion of hearts. Let my love for her bring me closer to You and as she did let me hold all things in my heart with great humility and motherly love.

Our Lady of Fatima, Pray for us.
