Knowing your faith: What does it mean to be a ‘practicing Catholic’?

On November 22, 2017

John Joy, For the Catholic Herald

Third, what does it mean to “understand and accept the teachings of the Church and moral demands of the Gospel, as articulated in the Catechism of the Catholic Church”? This third part contains two sub-parts: the teachings of the Church and the moral demands of the Gospel. Let’s begin with the latter:

The moral demands of the Gospel require us to cultivate both the human virtues (prudence, justice, fortitude, temperance) and the theological virtues (faith, hope, charity) and to keep the commandments. A practicing Catholic, therefore, is one who sincerely strives, with the help of God’s grace, to avoid:

Sins against God:

- (1) voluntary doubt, incredulity, heresy, despair, presumption, indifference, ingratitude, lukewarmness, acedia, hatred of God, superstition, idolatry, divination, magic or sorcery, Spiritism, tempting God, sacrilege, simony, atheism;
- (2) abuse of God’s name, blasphemy, false oaths, perjury;
- (3) failing to participate in the Mass on Sundays and holy days of obligation, engaging in unnecessary servile work on Sundays or holy days of obligation.

And sins against our neighbors:

- (4) failing to give respect and rightful obedience to those in positions of legitimate authority;
- (5) murder, abortion, euthanasia, suicide, scandal, excessive use of food, alcohol, tobacco, or medicine;
- (6) lust, masturbation, fornication, pornography, prostitution, rape, homosexual practices, contraception, direct sterilization, artificial insemination, surrogate pregnancy, in vitro fertilization, adultery, divorce, polygamy, incest;
- (7) theft, fraud, paying unjust wages, enslaving human beings, usury;
- (8) false witness, perjury, rash judgment, detraction, calumny, lying;
- (9) lustful thoughts and desires;
- (10) covetous thoughts and desires, greed, envy.

A list like this cannot be really complete, but like a good examination of conscience, it can serve as a helpful starting point for reflecting on our own faithfulness to the moral demands of the Gospel.

And of course, none of us is perfect! We all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God. But God is merciful! He is longing to forgive us in the Sacrament of Confession if only we will repent and resolve, with the help of his grace, to sin no more, and to avoid the near occasion of sin.

Finally, what does it mean, “to understand and accept the teachings of the Church”? The Church’s Profession of Faith, after the recitation of “Nicene Creed,” concludes with the following three statements:

- (1) With firm faith, I also believe everything contained in the word of God, whether written or handed down in tradition, which the Church, either by a solemn judgment or by the ordinary and universal Magisterium, sets forth to be believed as divinely revealed.
- (2) I also firmly accept and hold each and everything definitively proposed by the Church regarding teaching on faith and morals.
- (3) Moreover, I adhere with religious submission of will and intellect to the teachings which either the Roman Pontiff or the College of Bishops enunciate when they exercise their authentic Magisterium, even if they do not intend to proclaim these teachings by a definitive act.

The Catechism goes into more detail about what exactly these teachings are, but a great place to start for summaries of the most important articles of faith is with the official creeds of the Church: the “Apostles’ Creed” and the “Nicene Creed,” which are familiar from the Rosary and the Mass; but then also the “Athanasian Creed,” the “Creed of Pope Pius IV,” and the “Credo of the People of God,” which is the Profession of Faith of Blessed Pope Paul VI.

These three creeds tend to be less familiar to most Catholics because we don’t recite them on a regular basis, but they are beautiful statements of the Church’s faith that are well worth the read, and they spell out an essential part of what it means to be a practicing Catholic.

If you have been sexually abused as a minor by a member of the clergy or anyone representing the Catholic Church, or if you know of someone who was, you can report that abuse through the diocesan ABUSE HOTLINE: 1-888-296-2965 or e-mail at abuseline@dioceseoftrenton.org. The diocese reports allegations of abuse to the law enforcement agencies. Anyone with an allegation should provide information to law enforcement authorities.

A Prayer to Our Lady in Time of Trouble

Holy Virgin Mary, you are reigning in glory, with Jesus, your Son. Remember us in our sadness. Look kindly on all who are suffering or fighting against any difficulty. Have pity on those who are separated from someone they love. Have pity on the loneliness of our hearts. Have pity on the weakness of our faith and love. Have pity on those who are weeping, on those who are praying, on those who are fearful. Holy Mother, please obtain for all of us hope and peace with justice. Amen.

NEW EYES for the NEEDY

The Knights of Columbus, Council

8415, provides a container in the vestibule of the Church for the collection of used eyeglasses. They are sent to "New Eyes for the Needy." The eyeglasses are tested and sorted by volunteers for use by medical missions and hospitals throughout the world as well as by American veterans. Please remember to drop your old eyeglasses in the container.

If you would like to lift your spirits and learn a little more about your faith and well-being think about attending the St Pio Parish Faith Sharing Group. They meet once a week on Wednesdays after morning Mass and spend about one hour discussing the readings for the next Sunday and what they mean to us personally. Men and women both are welcome. Please contact Dc. John if you are interested or would like more information. God Bless.

St. Francis Food Pantry

in Seaside Heights is opened on Wednesdays from 10am until 12 noon. The demand for donations is great. Please consider bringing some food items with you when you attend Mass each Sunday. Donations may be left in the bin in the narthex of the Church. If you would like to donate items, and you are unable to carry the packages to Mass, please call Paul Sandy at 732-606-3656. He would be happy to stop by your home to do a pick up. The food pantry is grateful for the support that has been given over the years and hopefully you will continue to support your neighbors who are in need. Thank you.
