The Unity Prayer of the Flame of Love of the Immaculate Heart of Mary (part 2 continued)

The Unity prayer is about being in communion with the heart, mind, soul, strength, and divinity of Jesus. It is not only bread and wine that are transubstantiated into Jesus at Mass. We, by responding to the grace of God, are also to become transformed into the Body and Blood of Jesus, for the life of the world.

“My adorable Jesus” (my adored Jesus)

At first, I strongly objected to calling Jesus “adorable,” it makes it seem like Jesus is like an adorable “baby” or a “dog,” or something we typically call “cute.” I wanted to change the word in the worst way. Only gradually did it dawn on me, that “adoration” is the best word to express the highest form of love for God. The expression is a bit archaic in the 21st century, and I still wish there was a better word, but I can’t think of one. In talking with John Sullivan, the International Coordinator of the Flame of Love Movement, the English translation of this word from Hungarian (the language of Elizabeth Kindelmann who received the locutions of Jesus) will be changed to “adored.”

“May our feet journey together.”

This is Jesus’ request is for us to walk together each day along with Him, on His journey of self-sacrificial love to save souls, our own and the souls of everyone we encounter this day, and every living soul in the world. As our feet walk with him, we can’t avoid “the way of the cross!” May our primary focus be on Him, and His concerns, and not on our own worldly concerns that are often self-centered. As a friend of mine Joe Leone says, “forget about me, what about you?” We need the attitude of the “good shepherd” as we travel in our daily walk. We need to walk the road less traveled, looking for the lost.

“May our hands gather in unity.” Praying together with Jesus, means praying and working with the whole Church, to evangelize all those we encounter during our daily journey. The more people united and praying together, the more powerful, stronger, and effective the prayer is, to gather souls and wake-them-up to the meaning of life, and our eternal destiny.

“May our hearts beat in unison.” May our hearts beat together as the one heart of Jesus. May that ardent love of His, touch others through me. Jesus said to Elizabeth: “My human heart beats in union with my divinity; your heart beats in rhythm with My heart. That means you partake of my divinity, which makes you saints.”

“May our souls be in harmony.” John Sullivan says that It was difficult to translate the Hungarian; the literal translation seems to be “May our insides feel together.” This means our gut-feelings. The deep-down, visceral feelings and desires. We will struggle much to bring our gut-feelings in line with those of Jesus if we feel revulsion, rejection, indifference or other blocks (sinful tendencies) we may have.

“May our thoughts be as one.” In ancient Hebrew, the heart was considered to be the center of thought, decisions, and actions. To modern English-speaking people, the mind or brain is often the only organ of thinking and decisions. Jesus tells Elizabeth that His every thought is for souls, his deepest longing is for souls.

“May our ears listen to the silence together.” Personally, I never liked silent prayer much, or meditation, because when there is silence, my mind goes in all directions and I feel like I am just wasting time. I am still trying to appreciate this kind of communication. It involves active listening, not only to the words but the emotions, and other non-verbal communications that are conveyed. I call it meditative listening.

A PREPPER QUESTION A reflection for November 17

Are you a prepper? If we were asked that question, we might assume that someone wanted to know if we had graduated from a prep school. However, the question may have nothing to do with education.

Prepper, as the term is frequently used today, refers to a person who has taken steps to prepare for natural disasters, extreme weather events, supply chain disruptions, communication failures, the collapse of the power grid, food shortages, civil unrest, and other emergencies or catastrophes.

Preppers stockpile non-perishable food, water, medicine, hygienic supplies, etc. They make sure they have blankets, flashlights, battery powered radios, matches, communication devices, extra clothing, and some basic tools.

Preppers ready themselves to deal with life-threatening situations. They want to be prepared to care for themselves and their families if normal life gets turned upside down. They do not want to just depend on government agencies to come to their rescue.

Today's readings are about events that may happen in our lifetime or in the future.

In our First Reading from Daniel, we hear of "a time unsurpassed in distress since nations began." At this time, "many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake; some shall live forever, others shall be an everlasting horror and disgrace." Those who lived good and holy lives, whose names are "found written in the book" shall escape.

That same message is found in Sunday's Gospel. There Jesus speaks of a future time of tribulation when "the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will be falling from the sky, and the powers in the heavens will be shaken." When that happens "the Son of Man . . . will send out the angels and gather his elect from the four winds, from the end of the earth to the end of the sky."

When that will happen, no one knows. But as Jesus tells us in the Gospel of Matthew, "you also must be prepared, for at an hour you do not expect, the Son of Man will come"

As this liturgical year is coming to an end, the scripture readings focus our attention on the Lord's return at the end of time and on his coming to us at the end of our lives.

The readings remind us we need to be prepared for the Lord's coming. We do that by striving to be faithful Christians who "stockpile" acts of mercy, love, forgiveness, generosity, compassion, and kindness, particularly to the poor and the suffering.

Preppers prepare for the unexpected in this life. We need to be "spiritual preppers" who are ready for the Lord's return so that we might be among the elect gathered into eternal life. Are you a prepper?

Spiritual Adoption Monthly Report

Month One Developing Baby

Your spiritually adopted baby has been quite active over the past month. Already your baby is 10,000 times bigger than at conception. Your baby has developed the foundations of the brain, spinal cord and nervous system by the 20th day. His heart began to beat on the 21st day and is pumping blood through its own circulatory system. Your baby is most vulnerable during this next month of being aborted. Pray that the Lord of Life might move the heart of the mother to give him the most precious gift of all - the gift of life.
